Student Spotlight Celia Ritter Biology and Environmental & Sustainability Studies Major

Senior Celia Ritter is from Frankfort, KY and a graduate of Franklin County HS. Along with her double major in Biology and Environmental & Sustainability Studies, she will receive a minor in oboe performance when she graduates this May. In previous years, she has been an enthusiastic member of the UK Symphony Orchestra, and we still remember her beautiful English horn solo in the Pines of Rome during her freshman year! Friendly, hilarious, and genuine, Celia is a wonderfully positive presence in the UK Oboe Studio and has developed into a beautiful oboe player!

Q: Why did you choose to study at UK and how did you choose your major?

I chose UK because of the many opportunities it had. Senior year of high school, I wasn't confident about what I wanted to study, but I knew at UK, I would have many options. I chose my first major, Biology, because I love the subject, and I felt like it was a broad enough major to offer a variety of career options. I picked up a minor in ESS, but made it my second major at the beginning of my junior year after loving my sustainability focused classes.

Q: How do you balance playing the oboe with your studies? How does being a music minor fit into your life goals?

Time management is a constant learning process, and I'm still working on balancing classes. I've found that oboe is a really great break from studying for my other classes because it requires a very different kind of thinking. I have always loved playing oboe, and being a music minor gave me tons of great opportunities -- playing amazing music in UKSO and making great friends.

Q: What would you tell a prospective student considering UK?

Take advantage of every opportunity presented to you, and get involved in a variety of ways!

Q: You're graduating in May. What's next?

I'm planning to take a year off to work and travel before applying for graduate school.

Q: Your favorite thing about the UK Oboe Studio is...

The UK Oboe Studio is full of some of the most kind, fun, and supportive people I've ever met. I'm so thankful for the studio because through it, I met some of my best friends.

From the Reed Desk of Dr. Marchioni

Happy New Year! It's been another whirlwind semester here at UK, as we've been busy celebrating 100 years of the School of Music! The entire school year is full of exciting ensemble concerts, guest artists, and special events, and the Oboe Studio is delighted to be a part of it. This month in particular, we welcome the amazing Jaren Atherholt, Principal Oboe of the Louisiana Philharmonic, for a mini-residency and concert that is also a collaboration with Jennifer Potochnic of the University of Louisville.

We hope that you can join us, if not for this recital then another event this spring. If there is ever an opportunity that I can be of service to you, your students, or your music programs, I hope you won't hesitate to be in touch with me.

Warmly,

Toni Marie Marchioni
